

Today, I pledge to put a stop to bullying.

I will use my hands not for hitting but for helping

I will use my eyes to not look away but to look for those who need my help.

I will use my words not to hurt others but for speaking up for those in need.

I will use my ears to listen to other's words and help resolve conflict

I will use my feet to stand tall.

I will use my heart to love harder.

#loveharderproject